Dear Counsel:

We represent the DNC and DNC Chairperson Debbie Wasserman Schultz in the above-captioned action. The process has failed to properly serve the DNC and Congresswoman Schultz in this matter under the Federal Rules and/or applicable local law. To save you the expense of another attempt at service, we are willing to waive the service of the summons under the process provided for in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(e). Rather than sending via mail, you may send the summons, complaint, and a copy of the waiver form via email to me at this address, and, if you agree, I will send you back a signed waiver form via email.

If I do not hear from you by the end of the day on Monday, we will be filing a motion to dismiss for insufficient process or, in the alternative, to extend time to answer or respond to the complaint. If you do not respond to this email, I will assume that you intend to oppose the motion to extend. If you think that a live discussion could be fruitful, please send me some time that would work on your end and we can set up a call.

Thank,

Stephen Ansorg Interesting that they didn't allow much time to reply, with their email only being sent on Friday 7/15, and wanting a response by EOD Monday (no date specified) assuming 7/18, and threatening to motion for a dismissal if they don't receive a response.

Terra Kelly I would assume the legal offices knew the rules and followed them. These are Likely more games. In my state anyone can serve if they complete the proper documents. This was videotaped and she accepted the documents within the agency. Hmm. Can't wait to hear more.

Phillip Haynes There is a problem with their statement, there is VIDEO, the server filmed himself giving the papers to a member of the DNC representing the top office, in the DNC office!
